The designer has many options to improve the quality of aquatic and terrestrial wildlife habitat in larger stormwater wetlands. Emphasis should be placed at meeting the feeding, nesting and cover requirements for target species. Complex shapes, forest buffers, and a wide range of depth zones help to promote diversity.